FARMS BENEFIT. Rain over the weekend was heartening to farmers who were getting concerned about the effects of the lengthy drought. Here two farm workers are shown examining the corn crop on a local farm. The several acres of corn started coming along fast as a result of the rain and is expected to hit the market soon.

We're Drenched, Then Roasted

The intense mid-week July heat threatened to undo some of the benefits of the heavy weekend rains which refreshed gardens and lessened the forest fire danger. Record temperatures and irritating humidity were in the offing for Thursday and possibly for Friday before the weather pattern changes.

While the heavy two-day downpour on Saturday and Sunday dampened the enthusiasm of vacationers at beaches and other resorts, it was a godsend to the farmers whose crops were parched, lacking a plentiful rainfall since last May.

The heavy rain was of less benefit to the lawns of intown residents since it was shed into catch basins by the clay-like soil and the hardened, browned grasses. A prolonged, soft rainfall would have been more beneficial to the lawns of the homeowner.

Andover was fortunate as compared to neighboring communities during the weekend deluge. While water accumulations occurred on some streets in the northern section of the town, there were no serious instances of flooding. Traffic was slowed because of wet pavements and poor visibility.

With clearing weather arriving on Monday, the community enjoyed ideal mid-summer weather Tuesday, but it was short lived. The heatwave struck Wednesday morning and even before the sun was high in the heavens the mercury was in the 80s. To add to the discomfort, the humidity increased by the hour.

The weatherman held out promise that there would be a change for the better by Friday and that the weekend would not be a duplicate of that of last Saturday and Sunday.

Rain Spares Restrictions On Water

The weekend rain may have caused some displeasure for local residents and vacationers, but it was a boon to the town's water supply.

Water Supt. Donald C. Bassett said Wednesday that it was a good, healthy rain and would aid in maintaining the water supply.

Saturday's downpours were not as beneficial as the steady rainfall of Sunday, he said.

Due to the weekend deluge, he is optimistic that it will not be necessary to put restrictions on use of water this summer.

Sunday's rain was a drenching one which resulted in considerable ground getting well soaked. This he said was beneficial in several ways. It allows for natural runoff into wells and into Haggett's Pond, the town's main reservoir.

The drenching also relieved the town's pumping facilities, in that there was sufficient precipitation to discontinue lawn sprinkling in some cases.

Up until the weekend Bassett had not considered placing any restrictions, but the supply was being watched closely. For several days records were shattered at the pumping station, many days the facilities working at maximum to meet the demand.

With normal weather the rest of the summer, it appears the town water supply will continue to meet the demands, Bassett said.

Aiding the supply, are such projects as the Fish Brook reclamation dam constructed a few years ago and wells spotted throughout the town.

Fish Brook recaptures runoff water in the spring and places it in Haggett's. The wells also bolster the supply.

Assisting in meeting the demand is the new Bancroft reservoir.

Treatment Plant Specs To Be Drawn

Activity on planning for the Haggett's Pond Treatment plant is getting underway, according to Water Supt. Donald C. Bassett.

Drawing up of the final plans and specifications for the project are expected to begin within a day or two, Bassett said, the project being funded by a $124,000 grant from the federal government.

The plant is to be used to treat water from the Merrimack river and place it in the Haggett's pond reservoir to meet the anticipated demand on the water supply in the near future.

The project is a part of the town's master plan for the water system which has been kept on a perfect timetable over the past several years.

The final plans and specifications for the project must be complete and submitted to the federal government by August of 1970.

In other activity in the water and sewer department, Bassett reports that planning is reaching the final stages for the installation of water and sewer lines to the Raytheon complex off Lowell street near Route 93 in West Andover.

Bassett met with officials of the state Department of Public Works Tuesday to review the manner in which the utility lines will be brought across Route 93.

Contracts for the work are expected to be awarded soon, following a call for bids.

Selection Of New Manager Nearing

Selection of a new town manager is near, according to Chairman Robert A. Watters of the selectmen.

The board has narrowed the field to two candidates and is in the process of making final evaluation.

Watters anticipates the appointment may come within the next week. Selectman Philip K. Allen was unavailable for meetings this week, thus final action is being delayed until a full board is present.

The manager post has been vacant since Richard J. Bowen resigned in April. He is now manager in Portsmouth, N. H. He had indicated in March that he would not be a candidate for re-appointment at the end of his five year contract in August.

The two finalists are both serving in Massachusetts communities at the present time.

Watters noted Monday that the board had followed the editorial advice of the TOWNSMAN, and had visited the communities in which those persons who were in the running for the appointment were serving both present and past.

This week three members of the board visited a community where one of the candidates was employed. They reviewed his work with municipal officials, as well as other persons in the community.

Several weeks ago, the TOWNSMAN noted that city councillors from Portsmouth, N. H. were in town to talk with local persons about the capabilities of Mr. Bowen. At the time in editorial comment, it was recommended that the local selectmen follow the same line in selection of Bowen's successor.

There were about 40 applicants for the position. The selectmen narrowed the field down to about six persons who appeared.

Interviews have been held with all, resulting in what is now the final phase.

Watters reported that both candidates have ample experience and excellent qualifications.

He said that one in particular is more than anxious to win appointment. The applicant has been in Andover, is familiar with the area and would be more than pleased to accept appointment, Watters said.

First Tufts' Woman Dean

Dr. Kathryn A. McCarthy

Dr. Kathryn A. McCarthy of Andover is the first woman to be named dean of Tufts University's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in the past 67-year history.

Born and raised in Andover, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. McCarthy of 26 High St. Since 1946 she has been a Tufts faculty member and from 1961-1962 was acting chairman of the department of physics.

As an actively involved faculty member, she has been a member of numerous fact-finding committees including the Long Range Planning Committee which took a searching look at education at Tufts and published its findings last spring.

Dr. McCarthy earned both her A.B. in mathematics and her master's in physics from Tufts. In 1957 she received her Ph.D. in applied physics at Radcliffe College.

She is a member of the American Optical Society, the American Physical Society and the Society of Sigma Xi.

The new dean plans to continue teaching on a part-time basis. She replaces Dr. Paul A. Flint, who will return to a full-time professorship in the department of English.

The new appointment becomes effective Sept. 1.

Nixon Aide Replies To Local Man

An Andover man has received an appreciative letter from an aide to President Richard M. Nixon.

Robert V. Deyermund, 91 Elm St., wrote a letter of thanks to the President for bringing home 25,000 men from Vietnam, as a peace gesture.

The letter to Mr. Deyermund from Noble M. Melencamp, staff assistant to the President reads:

"The President has asked me to reply to your recent message concerning the reduction of American forces in Vietnam. He wants you to know that he appreciates your interest in giving him the benefit of your thinking on this matter. He believes he is taking every responsible step possible to bringing the war to a close on the basis of an equitable and lasting settlement. The announced withdrawal of U.S. troops is a positive demonstration of his desire to achieve peace.

"We hope that the other side, through its own actions, will make further reductions possible soon. This could be done through a comparable removal of North Vietnamese forces or by the scaling down of enemy military operations. Progress toward a peace settlement at Paris can also have an important bearing on future reductions in troop levels.

"We intend to keep the possibility of additional reductions under constant review and barring new developments we anticipate that a decision on additional withdrawals will be made in August."

Tell your Realtor all your particular needs and desires in a home. He will be your guide in the adventure of "house-hunting."

What will you look for in general room features?

Consider what type of ceiling you would like. The most typical houses these days have ceilings of about eight feet. Some houses of the Victorian era have ceilings nine feet or higher. The newer high, beamed ceilings have a dramatic appeal -- they offer wonderful decorating possibilities.

Check the wall space. Will there be room for sofas, bookcases, piano, and desk?

Watch for placement of the windows. What time of day would you like the most light? Are the windows placed in the best position?

Also survey the room for electrical outlets. Are they sufficient? Look for convenience in hooking up lamps and TV.

Homers Down All-Stars

By Rick Harrison

Three home runs and a big five-run explosion in the fourth inning helped carry the South Lawrence East All-Stars to a 6-3 victory over the Andover American Little League All-Stars in a District 14 tournament game Monday night at Hayden-Schofield Playstead in Lawrence.

The loss knocked the Andover American All-Stars out of the single-elimination tourney, and it was a rough defeat to take.

The Andover American "Stars" jumped out to a 2-0 second inning lead and were coasting along with this margin until the fourth inning. After South Lawrence East scored their five runs, Andover American came back to make it 5-3 before finally losing, 6-3.

The Andover American Stars threatened in the first inning but could not score. Leadoff batter Dave Vivian of the Tigers walked and went to second on a ground out by Steve Hillmann of the White Sox. Dave took third base on a wild pitch, and then Ken Loffredo of the Red Sox walked and promptly stole second to put runners on second and third with two outs. Buddy Fichera of the Tigers then grounded to first to end the inning.

The South Lawrence Stars could do nothing in the first with starting Andover American hurler Steve Ketzler of the Red Sox. Steve with a 7-2 season record behind him, got the home club 1-2-3 in the first.

Andover American then took a 2-0 edge in the second inning. After Steve Ketzler had flied out up against the centerfield fence and Greg Mizell of the Yanks had fanned, Andover American launched a two-out rally.

Darryl Gustafson of the Yankees stroked a single to center for the first hit of the game. Billy Martin of the Red Sox walked and then Dave Vivian walked to load the bases. With Steve Wilkins of the Red Sox at the plate, South Lawrence East catcher Barry Jackson permitted a passed ball and two runs scampered home for Andover.

Steve Ketzler continued to breeze through the second and third innings. He entered the fourth working on a no-hitter, and had surrendered just one walk over that span.

Andover American got another runner on in the third when Steve Hillmann legged out an infield hit. However, he was erased on a double play. In the top of the fourth, Steve Ketzler led the frame with a ground ball single to left, but he was cut down trying to steal second later in the inning.

Disaster struck in the bottom of the fourth as South Lawrence East batted around and unleashed its own "Murderers' Row." Winning pitcher Dan Cargill started with the first hit off Ketzler, a line single to rightfield. Steve Comparone followed with the first of his two home runs, a blast to straightaway center that tied the score 2-2.

A single by Jim Loffredo and an error put runners at first and second with no outs. Ketzler then bore down to whiff the next two batters and appeared on his way to escaping further trouble. He got two strikes on the ninth batter, Mike Delaney, before he hammered the next pitch over the left-field wall for a three-run homer and a 5-2 South Lawrence East lead.

Andover American rallied again with two out in the fifth. Rod Stedman of the Twins reached on an error and Steve Hillmann lined a sharp double down the right-field side to put two men in scoring position. Ken Loffredo then belted a solid single to left to score Stedman, but in a key play Hillmann was nailed at the plate on a fine throw from centerfielder Delaney to catcher Jackson to end the inning. Andover trailed 5-3 at this point.

In the South Lawrence East fifth the score jumped to 6-3 when Steve Comparone rapped a two-strike pitch over the rightfield fence. Andover American went down 1-2-3 in the final inning to end the game.

Steve Hillmann was the leading Andover American batter with two hits, while Loffredo had one hit and an RBI, and Ketzler and Gustafson added single safeties. Steve Ketzler ended with a six-hitter and four strikeouts.

Other members of the All-Star squad included Rhett "Hawk" Mundy, Craig Eosefow and Peter Reilly of the Twins and Bart Farrell of the Tigers. Serving as alternates were Keith and Glenn Verrette of the Twins, Dave Walker of the Red Sox, and Dave Mirisola and Harry Collins of the White Sox.

The club was managed by Charlie Conlon and coached by Dan Conlon of the American League champion Twins, who also captured the Town Championship.

Never argue with a loud talker. He is not so eager to discover truth as he is to hear the sound of his own, rich baritone voice.

Touring Golf Pros In Benefit Tourney Aug. 12-17

More than 100 United States and foreign touring professional golfers are expected to enter the First Annual Hospital Open at the Indian Ridge Country Club here next month, competing for a purse of $40,000.

Daniel E. Hogan, president of Indian Ridge and tournament director, said touring pros are expressing considerable interest in this P.G.A. sanctioned 72-hole satellite championship, which will be held Aug. 12-17.

The event, Hogan said, is being held for the benefit of the Children's Hospital Medical Center and nine community hospitals, most of them north of Boston.

Top finishers in the Hospital Open, he said, will qualify for the AVCO Open to be held the following week in Sutton.

Among the entrants expected, according to the tournament director, are a number of top ranking professionals and amateurs who are not eligible for the P.G.A. Championship being held the same week in Dayton, Ohio.

The Hospital Open is patterned after the Westchester Classic, which annually raises more than $250,000 for hospitals in Westchester County, New York. In addition, the Indian Ridge event is one of three satellite championships to be sanctioned this year in the United States by the P.G.A.

Tournament week gets underway Monday, Aug. 11, with qualifying and practice rounds. Tuesday there will be a driving contest, golf clinic, and additional practice rounds; while on Wednesday a Pro-Am Celebrity event will be held.

Playing rounds are scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with the final 18 holes set for Sunday, Aug. 17.

Hospitals in addition to Children's which will benefit from proceeds include Lawrence General Hospital, Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen, Malden Hospital, Memorial Hospital in Nashua, N.H., Somerville Hospital, Waltham Hospital, Lowell General Hospital, and St. Joseph's Hospital and St. John's Hospital, both of Lowell.

The Advanced Placement program is founded on the ability of students to do college-level work in high school and the desire of colleges to encourage and recognize this kind of achievement. ### Applying The New Doeskin Velvet Finish

Columbia Auto Seat Covers, located at 165-167 South Broadway in Lawrence, well known in this area as a complete auto cover and interior shop, is now featuring Doeskin Velvet. This is a new nylon fiber finish that is completely guaranteed and offers the utmost in elegance plus protection.

Doeskin Velvet can be applied to any surface - ceilings, walls, desk-tops, chairs, wherever the grace of a glowing soft texture is desired. The distinctive qualities of Doeskin Velvet allow it to be used below grade where it can turn a damp, musty cement block cellar into a dry luxurious area. It is completely washable, stain resistant, acoustical, fire resistant, mar resistant in short probably the most versatile surface finish ever developed.

The specialists at Columbia Auto Seat Covers will first apply an epoxy specially compounded for its fiber-fastening tenacity. This exclusive adhesive is then bombarded with electrostatically propelled nylon fibers. This application technique results in Doeskin Velvet being rust-proof, seamless and insulative. For example, the adhesive could be applied to a car-top, ceiling, wall or any other surface where Doeskin Velvet is desired; and the nylon fibers adhere only to the coated areas, the finished surface resembling soft velvet.

The Doeskin Velvet Fiber finish offers the comforts of a more silent ride in a car coated with this sound-deadening product, or a quieter office with ceiling and walls that absorb and soften sound rather than reflect and harshen it.

Stop in at Columbia Auto Seat Covers and see this revolutionary new covering in a wide range of colors. Work is done promptly and satisfaction is guaranteed. This reliable firm, owned and operated by the Messina family of Andover, stands behind every job, large or small, residential or commercial.

For further information, call Columbia Auto Seat Covers any time at 683-2205. It is the oldest auto seat covering company in the Merrimack Valley yet constantly keeps pace with the newest innovations in the field.

There are several things you can do to make leg shaving easier, safer, and cleaner. When shaving with a razor blade, the skin should be wet. Hair is easier to cut when wet because it absorbs water and becomes soft and pliable. A lathering with either soap and water or shaving cream will further facilitate the procedure. Always use a clean razor and a sharp blade. Use long even strokes rather than short choppy ones. It is also easier to shave one's legs using upward strokes.

Editorial Comment

No Sympathy

Last week a Boston newspaper commented that the Boston Patriots, the American League professional football team, had some adverse reports about the field facilities at Phillips Academy.

The report indicated that the pro football team had found their present facilities at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, were much better, and more adequately maintained.

We wonder whether this report was an imaginative commentary by the Boston press, or actually the utterances of Patriots officials.

Reportedly, there were potholes on the field at Phillips Academy, which led to some injuries on the part of the pro football players.

We can not imagine that the officials of the academy or the groundskeepers, who traditionally have maintained beautiful, safe playing surfaces, could let such a condition exist.

Professional athletes, with their hard-nosed, determined efforts are bound to affect a turf a little more differently than preparatory or college athletes.

That there were some potholes on the field, exists due to that possibility.

We would assume that at UMass, the same condition will exist.

The Patriots, we think, during their years since formation, have been nothing but crybabies, and have blamed the Boston public for all their misfortune.

Basically, Andover treated the Patriots quite well.

As guests of the community, they were accorded greetings of the town on occasion. They had the support of the local fraternity. They were followed throughout the seasons, good and bad by local residents.

The Patriots seem to thrive on the faults of the community in which they offer their professional talent for league games, as well as the places where they train.

Their hue and cry is for a new stadium in Boston.

All the world loves a winner. Boston and its fans, have supported losers, as well as winners.

We have no sympathy for the Patriots who can traditionally come up with lame excuses for their misfortunes.

A winning team, made up of competent talent, well trained, well-paid in competition with other teams in the league, indeed will draw.

Just this week, with the opening game only a few short weeks away, the Pats, apparently do not have a home field nailed down as yet.

We would look to Shakespeare and comment on the comments of the Patriots officials and state, "Methinks, thou do protest too much."

We will stand behind the Phillips Academy athletic fields and their maintenance.

The fields there, we feel, are well cared for, particularly under the mass utilization by the students during the outdoor athletic seasons.

The misfortunes of the Patriots, must be attributed to themselves, rather than seeking out excuses.

Home Rule

There is nothing like trying to walk on egg shells, but at the risk of doing so, we comment, briefly, on a bill in the legislative hopper at the state house in Boston.

It deals with low income housing, for which a group in Andover has recently been formed.

We have no particular quarrel with the thoughts of the local people in wanting to provide some housing for those of lesser annual income.

The bill before the legislature allows local communities to lose control over the use of land within their borders.

If approved, five per cent of the land in Andover could become eligible for development of low income housing units.

A group interested in providing for such units, would be required to appear before the local planning board for permission to construct such property.

If refused by the local planning board, the sponsoring organization could appeal to the regional planning commission, which could overrule local authorities.

This we think is bad, since it once again, violates home rule.

We would rather allow local officials continue to rule their community, looking out for the safety, welfare and future of the town.

There is federal legislation in process, which is better suited to such matters and would be administered through the Housing Authority.

Providing for the low income group is meritorious, but let us keep local control over the structure of our community.

Our Best Wishes

As Apollo 11 soars toward an historic mission to the moon, our best wishes go with the three brave astronauts in charge of the actual flight.

The lunar landing, if successful, and we pray that it will be, will place America in the forefront in space.

It is more than just being first on the moon, however, since in each space flight, more scientific knowledge, beneficial to all mankind, has been forthcoming.

Advances have been made particularly in the field of medical science, assisting in the preservation of life and the making of life here on earth more pleasant.

There have also been advances in the field of safety, through the several space missions.

Russia, in trying to steal a little thunder from our space program, launched an unmanned mission to the moon this past week. Regardless of its success or failure, it can not compare to this Apollo 11 mission.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, have studied the flight plans and its problems and have taken every precaution to protect the safety of the three astronauts.

The three men are cognizant of the dangers involved and go forth fearlessly on their lunar adventure.

There will be several experiments to be carried out.

One of the proudest, we are sure, will be that to be performed by Neil Armstrong, the first human being to set foot on the lunar surface.

Part of his work will be to implant the American flag on the moon.

If success comes to the United States on this mission, indeed all Americans can salute their flag and three brave men proudly.

Off The Top
Of The Desk

Growth of the town and its school system is evidenced in this week's Down the Years in an accompanying column.

Only 25 years ago, the preschool clinic for children entering the school system was held on a single afternoon. The system is so large now that registration is held at individual schools. Any effort to register opening day classes would involve more than the two hours it took 25 years ago.

Former Rep. James P. Hurrell of North Andover, who served Andover in the state legislature for two years, has completed basic training with the U. S. Army, Fort Dix, N. J. He has been in the service since January.

He is currently serving as a squad leader and was recently nominated as the outstanding leader of the month at Fort Dix.

According to a recent publication on air pollution by the Channing L. Beto Company, Greenfield, the major polluters of our air - automobiles, factories, power plants, space heaters, and refuse disposal - are pumping 142,000,000 tons of garbage into the air each year over the U. S. This is done at a cost of $12 billion annually to the taxpayer.

An article in a recent edition of the TOWNSMAN, proved not only interesting to our readers, but of particular value to one resident.

George Snyder of Maple Ave., who will be going to Rome to teach at an Overseas school next year, saw the article on Emory S. Basford, retired Phillips Academy English department head, who has spent five years in Rome aiding in the establishment of St. Stephen's school.

Snyder spent considerable time with Mr. Basford learning some of the problems and features of his future home.

Sometimes a person runs into luck.

Such was the case this week, when a person had been batting a bit zero lately and was passing a service station when he ran out of gas.

Good omen, we trust, since the dehydrated petrol tank was filled without difficulty, and the red-faced driver proceeded.

We withhold identification of the operator of the vehicle.

The Tuesday night band concerts are indeed popular.

Passing Memorial Park Tuesday night, reminded one of the good old days as hundreds were sitting around listening to the tunes of musical shows, varied presentations and marching music.

Families thronged the park, the youngsters bounding about, the parents, with a watchful eye and an attentive ear, and some of the old folks just plain enjoying themselves.

When that day that the bandstand is restored comes, the weekly presentations will be even more enjoyable.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN
Must Andover be fluoridated? The fluoridation law prescribes a procedure by which the water may be fluoridated, but it does not require fluoridation.

This law differs from the school appropriation law. If Andover does not appropriate what the school committee asks, the town may be hauled into court, fined, and forced to appropriate the amount.

Not so with fluoridation. Local health authorities may, but need not, order fluoridation of public water supplies on advice of the state commissioner of public health. The law provides no enforcement - no penalty if a community does not carry out the order of the board of health.

The law does not require any community to appropriate for fluoridation. No order to fluoridate can be carried out without funds. Decisions regarding appropriations rest exclusively in the hands of the appropriating power in each community. That power in Andover is town meeting. Massachusetts communities have not all appropriated for fluoridation. Has Andover?

Probably those present at town meeting this year remember that no appropriation for fluoridation was voted. Is there a fund to be used for fluoridation although the voters did not appropriate specifically for that purpose?

Alert is advised by legal counsel that there is no fund that can be legally used by any department for a new program without prior appropriation by the voters specifically for that purpose. Even in an emergency, where there is a shortage of funds for the regular work of a department, the department having the emergency must apply to the finance committee for transfer of money from the emergency fund.

How is the sodium fluoride now going into our water being paid for? (Obviously the fluoride was not required to make the water fit for use.) Is the law on appropriations being violated?

Memorial Hall Library

Do you have a pen-pal? The current exhibit in the Children's Room features articles from Japan sent to an American girl over a period of ten years from her Japanese pen-pal. There is a picture of the Japanese girl in the exhibit, and her Andover friend is now Mrs. Linda MacCausland Mitton. Books about Japan for young readers are also included.

Are librarians fulfilling their main goal -- which, according to the new, younger professional librarians, means seeking out and serving those in the center of today's action and being truly the social institutions they are intended to be? Not at all, this same group claims, and until libraries do become relevant to the social and economic problems which concern our citizenry, libraries will lose out on constituents and on their share of the tax dollar. This theme was dominant at the Atlantic City Annual Meeting of the American Library Association attended by R. B. Hubbs, Associate Director of the Memorial Hall Library. There are many ways libraries could become more effective institutions, and Mr. Hubbs pointed out that libraries of all types must be ready to re-examine services, and goals, in the light of the new criticism from within and without the professional associations.

Marketing Info

For business people in the area the library has subscribed to Marketing Information Guide, a monthly annotated bibliography of marketing, management and sales interest.

Saddened

Members of the Memorial Hall library staff expressed their sorrow this week on the death of John M. Wilson, husband of Mrs. Ethel Wilson, dedicated member of the library staff. Mr. Wilson died Monday and funeral services were held Wednesday.

Something Different For A Cookout

(TOWNSMAN News Feature)

This is the vacation season, a time for cookouts, a period when the aroma of tender meats and other delicacies waft through the air and stir the appetite.

Just for kicks, we asked a few people about some of their favorite recipes for this summer time-charcoal broiled season.

It is, of course, the season, which brings out the best in the amateur chef--when in sartorial splendor, the man of the house, rules the roost, or maybe the roast, over the sizzling briquettes.

One of the items to be considered is the traditional hamburger.

It is always a delight to take the tender ground chunks of beef and place them in patty shape, over the coals.

One suggestion given us in recent weeks, to enliven the traditional fare, calls for a mixture of mustard, relish and chopped onion to be placed in the center of the 'burger.

Two very thin patties are composed and the well blended mixture placed delicately and in small portions in the middle, charcoal broiled to perfection, it offers something different than the usual 'burger.

There really isn't too much we have heard for variation on the also traditional hot dog, although there is the suggestion that the competent grillmaster, with ability to regulate the fire properly can come up with a dandy.

Requiring some adroit maneuvering of the fire, to prevent flareups, the tried and true American frankfurt can be wrapped in cheese slices and bacon, with toothpicks to hold the components together, to make the regal weiner a wee-bit unusual.

Having a crowd?
Want a salad a little bit unusual, or different?

Try this Eleanor Carole specialty, which frankly is made up mostly of leftovers.

1/2 to 1 lb. bacon - fry in skillet until crisp. Then drain on paper toweling, set aside until combined with other ingredients. 1 large can of corn niblets, drained, tomatoes, cut in wedges, cucumbers, cut in slices, fresh green string beans that have previously been cooked and served at a meal. In other words, the leftover beans. Always cook extra beans for the original meal. Bermuda onion, cut in thin slices, or, if preferred, chopped in small pieces.

Combine the tomatoes, cucumbers, corn, onion, and bacon in a large salad bowl. About 1/2 hour before serving, toss all ingredients with mayonnaise. Use any amount of each ingredient as you so desire.

Note: Fresh corn on the cob may be substituted for the corn niblets when it is in season.

There is always the possibility that the crowd, large or small will be arriving later than planned, or maybe the stubborn briquettes just won't get gray quick enough.

Don't let the guests fret about the wait -- let them dunk some crackers or potato chips or other specialties in something like a tasty clam dip composed of: 1 8-ounce pkg. cream cheese, 1 small can minced clams, drain and reserve the juice, dash of lemon juice, Worcestershire Sauce, and salt.

Combine the cream cheese, minced clams, lemon juice, salt, and Worcestershire Sauce by adding the reserved clam juice until it is of a dipping consistency. If soured cream is preferred, omit the cream cheese and reserved clam juice and mix the other ingredients with a pint of soured cream.

For the adults present, a different and most refreshing starter for the festivities would be a Hawaiian Cooler.

It is a delightful blend of an ounce of vodka, an ounce of creme de menthe and four ounces of pineapple juice, mixed well and served chilled over ice cubes. Garnish with a cherry and pineapple slice. Then there is --

Gosh, all these things are a lit-
